

Stay ahead of risks.

OnTrack is a modern checklist that brings operations and L&D together in the moments it matters most.

CHALLENGE: Operational variables that put your business at risk

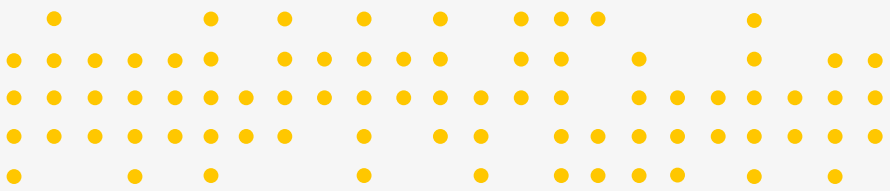

Whether your business is rapidly scaling and adding locations or simply trying to maintain consistency and oversight, controlling variables is vital for success. Inconsistencies, errors, and unorganized operations are costly both to your bottom line and, over time, brand reputation. Minor errors often snowball into critical territory. The most significant risk to operations, however, is human error.

Leaders need to be able to control the variables that put businesses at risk. Employees need the opportunity to learn corrective actions and create positive behaviors all while performing their jobs correctly. Training programs are only effective if done correctly in the moment, on the floor, when it matters the most. And smart devices and automation tools only account for errors that are near or imminent.

SOLUTION: A checklist that aligns with your learning platform

By managing operational checklists out of your Wisetail platform, OnTrack helps organizations stay ahead of risks by controlling variable and creating a proactive approach to everyday operations. The easy-to-use checklist solution helps improve day-to-day efficiency by standardizing processes across all locations, helping to account for human error by providing task reasoning in the flow of work. Admins can quickly identify trends and gaps, and provide corrective action in the Wisetail platform. As a result, productivity and efficiency increase, and employees are empowered to do their job correctly.

Better Together: The OnTrack Advantage

Bring operations and training together with OnTrack to create positive behaviors, drive accountability, and ultimately reduce costs. Work smarter in a digital world with all of your training, communications, and operations seamlessly integrated.

○ Accelerate Productivity

Upskill team members faster and reduce costs associated with inefficient operations. Mobile-first interface allows team members to access lists whenever they need to.

○ Deliver Consistency

Create consistent guest experiences across all locations when you schedule, assign and notify team members of activities and checklists, reducing risks of “I forgot” and “what’s next”.

○ Create Accountability

Empower employees to learn positive behaviors and do what is expected. Build a culture that values accountability and consistency, contributing to your overall goals.

○ Improve Insights

Monitor and make informed decisions and identify additional required training with reporting capabilities. Show regulatory compliance with digital records of activities.

Summary

Leaders need to be able to control the variables that put their business at risk. Wisetail’s OnTrack is designed to help you manage the everyday operations that keep your business running, while also delivering training in the moment, on the floor, when it matters the most. Align your training platform with operations using OnTrack, and stay ahead of risks.
